FUNDED RESEARCH PROJECTS

“University Reform and Academic Culture in the People’s Republic of China: Exploring the Impact of Globalization.” Principal Investigator for a project to examine changes at Chinese research universities and the impact on faculty culture. The project centers on the experiences of faculty in Beijing, at three top ten research universities: Beijing University, Beijing Normal University, and Renmin University of China. Funded by the Academic Senate of the University of California, Los Angeles ($ 4,000). July 1, 2009 to June 30, 2010.

“Nation Building and Universities in the Developing World: The Role of the World Bank.” Principal Investigator for a project to examine the philosophy and practice of World Bank higher education projects in Thailand and Uganda. This was part of a larger project to study the influence of globalization and the work of the World Bank, including its role in strengthening universities in the areas of human capacity building and academic science. Funded by the Academic Senate of the University of California, Los Angeles ($ 5,000). July 2007 to June 2008.

“Globalization and the Changing Context of Academic Work in Southern China: A Case Study of Guangdong University of Foreign Studies.” Principal Investigator for a project to examine the influence of globalization on faculty work in China. This was part of a larger project to examine the changing nature of academic citizenship in an increasingly global environment. Funded by the Academic Senate of the University of California, Los Angeles ($ 2,000). July 2005 to June 2007.

“Global Citizenship and Transnational Identity: A Study of Experiences and Perceptions of International Graduate Students.” Principal Investigator of a research project to study international graduate students and the impact of graduate study in the U.S. In particular, the project focused on students’ perceptions of globalization and the emergence of transnational identities. Funded by the Academic Senate of the University of California, Los Angeles ($ 5,000). July 2003 to June 2004.

“Enhancing the Retention of Underrepresented Students of Color: The Student-Initiated Retention Project.” Principal Investigator of a research project to study student-initiated retention and academic support programs for underrepresented minority students at the University of California, Berkeley and the University of Wisconsin, Madison. Funded by The Spencer Foundation ($ 34,750). January 2003 to January 2004.

“Graduate Student Unionization in the United States: Identity, Ideology, and Collective Bargaining.” Principal Investigator of a research project to study the role of identity and ideology in the unionization of graduate student employees. Funded by the Program on Leadership and Management of Nonprofit and Community Based Organizations at the UCLA School of Public Policy and Social Research ($ 5,000). July 2001 to June 2002.

“The Political Economy of Higher Education Reform in Argentina and Mexico: Dilemmas Facing Globalization.” Principal Investigator (with Dr. Carlos Torres) of a research project to examine the political economy of higher education reform in Argentina and Mexico in the context of globalization. Funded by the Center for Studies in Higher Education, University of California, Berkeley ($ 9,000). September 2001 to September 2002.

“Student Reform Efforts and Organizing Through the Internet.” Principal Investigator of a research project to explore the use of advanced technology in student organizing. Funded by the Michigan State University College of Education In-House Grant Program ($ 2,900). January 1997 to June 1997.

“Mentoring Minority Graduate Students Through Team Research and Inquiry.” Principal Investigator of a project designed to enhance the research experiences of prospective minority scholars. Funded by the Center for Advanced Learning Systems ($ 1,250). September 1996 to June 1997.

“Student Activism and Cultural Identity: An Analysis of Contemporary Student Movements and the Ideal of Community.” Principal Investigator of a project designed to examine the role of students as agents of social change. Funded by the Michigan State University College of Education In-House Grant Program ($ 3,200). September 1995 to July 1996.

“Engineering Coalition of Schools for Excellence in Education and Leadership” (ECSEL). Worked as a member of the external evaluation team designed to assess the effectiveness of academic innovations in engineering education. Examined learning outcomes related to the use of collaborative learning and team design work. The project was funded by the National Science Foundation ($ 15,000,000 over five years). February 1994 to August 1995.

“National Center on Postsecondary Teaching, Learning, & Assessment” (NCTLA). Worked as a member of a multi-university research team funded by the Office of Educational Research and Improvement, U.S. Department of Education ($ 5,000,000 over five years). Specific responsibilities involved conducting organizational case studies of community colleges with a focus on academic innovation and change. August 1993 to November 1995.

“Advanced Research Projects Agency--Technology Reinvestment Project” (ARPA-TRP). Served as Project Evaluator assigned to assess applied research initiatives such as experiential training for faculty in industrial settings through summer internships and sabbatical leaves. Funded by the National Science Foundation ($ 1,500,000 over three years). August 1994 to September 1995.

“Faculty Socialization and Peer Review.” Worked as a member of a research team to examine faculty career paths, faculty socialization, and peer review. A specific concern involved enhancing the development of faculty of color and women. The project was funded by the Lilly Endowment and TIAA-CREF ($ 240,000 for three years). August 1992 to July 1993.
